Economic environment

Global Slowdown is Expected in the Medium-Term

IMF latest forecast shows global growth will drop to 2.8% this year before rising modestly to 3.0% in 2024. Global inflation will decrease, although more slowly than initially anticipated, from 8.7% in 2022 to 7.0% this year and 4.9% in 2024.

Global growth is projected to remain at below trend rates in 2023 and 2024, at 2.8% and 3.0% respectively

Inflation is projected to moderate gradually over 2023 and 2024, but core remains elevated, driven by strong service price increases

Improved Supply Chains Helped Stabilize Inflation

Headline inflation remains elevated and was driven mainly by an increase in housing rents which increased by 8.7% from a year earlier. However, improved supply chains have helped cool output prices for goods.

CPI Inflation decelerated to 2.7% YoY in Mar from 3% in Feb, with rents prices continue to increase while food prices declined

Source: GASTAT

Supply chain disruptions seems to be faded and contributed to the slowdown in inflation.

Sustained Improvement in Business Performance in Q1 2023

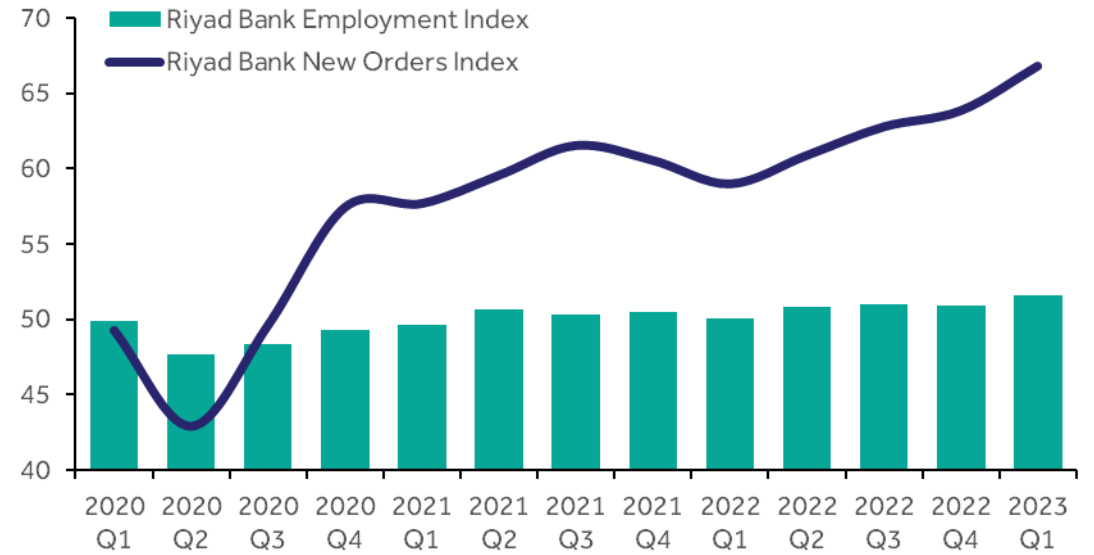

Business conditions remain strongly positive during the first quarter of 2023 as improving market conditions helped to boost demand in the non-oil private sector. Both output and new orders have expanded sharply, adding pressure on capacity.

Riyad Bank PMI® showed sustained improvement in business performance in Q1 2023 with strong non-oil production levels
